Respectfully submitted :—

In connection with the correspondence relating to elections and also in view of the heavy work of the office connected with special interests and nominations etc. an additional hand is necessary for this office. The ledger prescribed recently for keeping an up-to-date record of the action taken on the promises made by Gov. in the Rep. Ass'y. and Leg. council at their meetings will also be a ponderous one, and if the information is to be kept up-to-date one hand will be required to maintain the seven registers — four of the R.A. and three of the L.C.

~~Similarly of a recorder's diary with the periodical arrear lists has to be maintained (the present diary is merely a form Register), the work of the stationery clerk, the work of the Despatcher the diary, the despatch Registers,~~ Also experience has shown that a separate hand, without the necessity of dealing with office papers and with the meetings also the time of the services of the A.C. and more especially of the R.A., is necessary to prepare the t.a. bills of the members, to obtain the necessary signatures and countersignature, and to disburse the cash amounting to several thousands.

All things put together it is but reasonable to expect some additional staff for the office for the purposes above referred to: it has also to be noted that the removal of the restriction regarding the number of the resolutions to be moved and the interpellations to be put has caused a considerable increase in the quantity of work to be turned out.

~~Short for one~~ If possible Mr. B.V. Nanjundaiya, who did some portion of the 'Electric' work on the last occasion may be told off for similar work, if necessary by placing him on deputation, and two hands on smaller pay, say, Rs. 40 + Rs. 35, entertained for the time being. One additional peon may also be ~~entertained~~ employed, as ~~one~~ three peons of this Office are ~~not here~~ in the households of some of the Secretaries and one other fellow who is modern absent. Two peons for the office are necessary.

ROUTINE NOTES.

Submitted for orders.

8/3 There is a provision of Rs 15,000 in the budget for work connected with the elections, of which nearly Rs 11,000 has been utilized for printing Voters' lists, etc.

There is no doubt that the election work has thrown too much strain on the staff & immediate relief is urgently called for.

If five hands on Rs 35/- & Rs 40/- are temporarily entertained (as proposed by the Asstt.) for a period of three months the cost will be only Rs 225, which may be met from the available balance out of Rs 15,000 referred to above.

These five hands may work in the office and Mr. B. V. Rau. Jundargi may be detailed for duty with the special officer.

[The question of permanently strengthening the office may be taken up later.]
